Turning On Our Light Codes While Living a Grounded Life

with Cindi McKinley

Turning On Our Light Codes While Living a Grounded Life is a presentation about the meeting place between awakening and everyday life. As many people begin to sense deeper gifts, inner knowing, and new layers of remembrance emerging within them, the question becomes how to live these changes in a real, grounded way. This talk offers a gentle exploration of "light codes" as the unique wisdom, purpose, and soul-level intelligence each person carries, and how these can begin to come online through the ordinary experiences of daily living. Rather than leaving life behind in order to awaken, we are being invited to bring more of our light into the life we are already living.

About Cindi

Cindi McKinley was born with a strong psychic sensitivity, but it wasn't until she immersed herself in Earth-based traditions that her gifts fully stabilized and integrated. Through decades of ceremonial training, practice, grid work, and communion with higher dimensional beings, Cindi has become a steward of ancient light codes returning to our planet during this time of great transition. She is the author of several books, including the beloved Shifting Timelines: How to Co-Create Your Extraordinary Life, which continues to support the awakening journey of many across the world. Her work bridges celestial wisdom with grounded presence, reminding us that true expansion begins when we root fully into the Earth grid and allow harmony to return.
