Business Arising from the Minutes

Constitution:

CSQ must transition to Industry Canada's new system by October 17, 2014. Tyhson said everything is good to go. The policies and procedures don't have to be submitted.

Policies and Procedures

Merlin Beltain and Joan Pearson are going to update the manual. Tyhson recommends using a template that has been proven. We need volunteers to coordinate the process. Looking to include in the constitution that board meetings can be hosted through emails. This makes it much easier and cheaper for those that have to travel long distances for meetings.

Promotions, Branding, and Advertising

This is typically Sue Chepelsky's department and she is not at conference yet.

Notes and ideas: Member application – new form has space to add to online directory. If a person is buying membership/conference for 2 people they must add the second person's name on the PayPal form; make same for application. Tyhson also wants us to get the phone number. Carol recommends that we get them to fill out the membership form no matter what method of payment is used. Include on the website "if paying by PayPal you still need to fill out membership form with information.

Carol addressed that Sue asked to be on the conference committee so that she has a better grasp of the conference events and can help promote and advertise better. Carol agreed but wanted to check with board who all agreed as well.

There have only been a couple of online advertisements/journal advertisements so far so Carol suggests that it is promoted more. Tyhson stated that he thinks it is too complicated and that the process needs to be simplified more through use of examples/sample/templates to fill out. This will make it easier for businesses that don't have time to design ad.

DVD Sales

We are no longer producing DVDs. Possibly use the old DVDs to give to/sell to at discount the already produced and paid for DVDs. Tom suggested that we digitize the already made DVDs into a form of documentary series.

Michael will be filming at this conference. He is volunteering his time for the filming but not for production. Looking for volunteers for production. Carol's brother might.

Incorporation papers for bank account

Jen received an email from John Theobald last night with a new letter from TD bank with difference requirements for the Vancouver Chapter account. No longer need papers for chapter's account but should track down in case needed in the future.

Jen asked if there are any requirements on the bank account for the chapters as the bank needs them listed in an official letter. Board responded just there needs to be 2 signers.

Treasurer's Report

Kim reported that while there is a large amount of money in the account this is just a snapshot and does not reflect our current financial standing.

Adam McLeod is $15 000 we have paid him $5000 and still owe him $10 000

Still haven't paid rooms for staff, meal packages, post conference.

Carol projects a net of $10 000 in bank when all is settled with full financial recovery

Meeting space is free because we are getting meals

Kim wants to know the policy for NSF checks. Carol said to charge the people whose checks bounced unless it is our fault (i.e. too much time elapsed before depositing check).

Kim wants to know how to input the PayPal invoices because she is not receiving itemized lists and is only getting lump sum amounts. Carol will send more details for inputting in the future and thinks there is a way for Kim to access this in PayPal.

Kim wants to know about the loss in fees we are taking from PayPal. Georgia confirmed that the fees are in Canadian and we are not losing money on exchange. The fees are standard for using paypal as a medium.

Conference Report

Carol says that the spring conference will be held every other year because it was so much work.

Fall conference – see how this large conference pans out with the new location and see attendee's evaluations before making any decisions for next year. This will be a collaborative process and we will keep it at this location if it works out.

Carol also reported that Kathy Reid has been very helpful and has shared expenses for some of the speakers.

New Members

There are many new members due to Adam McLeod as a pre-conference. We need to promote Questers to the new people coming and encourage them to attend other events.

Recruiting Young People to Questers

Evolvers – electronic music and sound healing dowsing – Tyhson and Carol are going to connect at a later date to discuss further. Other possible targets suggested: Peace Core, 4H group, Girl Guild groups (age issue mentioned). Tom and Kim suggest that this discussion should be opened up at the AGM to generate ideas and volunteers' for recruitment. Kim suggests posting videos online in order to plant the seed of information and acceptability.

Will be Saturday September 26 following dinner.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Once again I am grateful for the opportunity to lead this open-minded, open-hearted group known as the Canadian Society of Questers. The success of the 2014 Fall Conference lifted us out of our financial hole, which allowed us to relax a bit and focus on other things. At the spring event we talked about where the Questers want to go from here. Five main things emerged from those discussions.

- 1) We want to include more connecting with mother earth at our events.
- 2) We want to find ways to breathe new life into the chapters.
- 3) We want to encourage members to express what they want through their association with Questers.
- 4) We want Questers to incorporate more outreach in helping others, our beloved planet and each other.
- 5) We want to find ways to attract more young people to become involved with Questers.

The board of directors will continue to discuss these items in order to come up with tangible ways to reach these goals. We certainly welcome any and all input from members so please let us know if you have any ideas along these lines.

I feel that our society is a great group to belong to, especially during this time of accelerated change because of the many resources, knowledge and tools that are available to us. As president, it has been my goal to keep a focus of expanding on those resources and I hope to keep it up for one more term.

Respectfully Submitted,
Carol Heywood,
President of the Canadian Society of Questers

MEMBERSHIP SECRETARY'S REPORT

I am happy to report that there have been 150 new members registered since 2013. Each Conference creates a spurt of new members and the stalwart old guard faithfully renew every year. Once a member has had two renewals reminders and is nearly a year in arrears they are put on the starred category, so do not receive a journal but are kept on the mail out of conferences list for another two years before being removed. Renewal due date is staying at a year from the paid dues date. This helps me to keep up with the trickle of renewals rather than have them all come in at once! The fact that so many have emails makes the chore of sending out conference information a breeze and does not cost the Society. The pdf Journal feature also saves many a postage dollar.

I do appreciate the personal messages that come with some renewals. It is a joy to have so many friends in the Society.

There are 37 members numbered at under 100 on the data base, meaning they have been members since the inception of the numbering of the data base! 13 of those memberships are of Life Members or Kindred Spirit organisations. Hurray for those great Dowsers!

We have 588 names on the data base at the moment and the newest number is 2069.

With Much Love and respectfully submitted by Serah Roer.

I have only had 2 guest speakers since the last fall meeting. We have had no expenses. Any donations were given to the guest speakers. I have recently been talking to two people who believe they may help me with the running of the group, as I've been group very busy, and its not easy getting guest speakers and people coming out to the talks. Hopefully soon we will have a new breathe of life into the group.

We held 9 meetings this year and two outings, one to a Fairy Bush and another to a members acreage where we enjoyed supper and activities. Our numbers are up this year as more people find out about our group.

We had a very interesting year with interesting guest speakers and lots of discussion about a variety of topics including:

- Qi Gong
- Tarot
- Tong Ren
- Hara Lines
- Crystal Grids

At each meeting we have incorporated activities such as hooping, checking auras, and more.

EDITOR'S REPORT

We have not had any advertising this year for the journal. It continues to be a struggle to receive articles from members. Have received some positive feedback that the breadth of content is fantastic.

WEBMASTER'S REPORT

Paypal buttons for purchasing conference fees has been working well (I have not received negative feedback about this).

Little has been done to promote the directory so it has been included on renewal and new memberships. Nothing has happened with regards to designing and building a new site.

CONFERENCE COORDINATOR REPORT

Conference Committee: Carol Heywood, Merlin Beltain, Georgia Miller, Tom Duke, Cory Greaves and Sue Chepelsky

The 2014 Fall Conference in Kelowna was a success thanks to a popular line up that attracted good attendance. The 4 Points Sheraton worked well as a venue and we planned to return there this fall until a few things came up that caused me to change plans. First I heard the voice of many Questers who were not able to attend that conference because it was too expensive. Many who did attend expressed that it was a bit of a financial hardship.

Then came the spring retreat at the Sts'ailes lodge in Agassiz. This event was so special for most due to immersion in nature that it made me take another look at the Kelowna venue. Since there was very little nature to connect with at the 4 Points Sheraton and since many members felt it was too expensive, I felt guided to move the Fall Conference to the same lodge in Agassiz. I hoped to convince many that the sleeping room accommodations would be adequate in order to have a wonderful conference in nature. The low numbers for attendance has proved that I was only slightly successful in doing so.

I learned early on that I cannot please all the Questers all of the time, however, I do have a goal of pleasing most of you at least most of the time. I still am confident that it will be a very special conference; however I do regret that many people will not partake because of issues with the accommodations.

We are still planning on a spring event in May, 2016 (still working on the exact date) at Olds College near Calgary. Stand by for more information about that soon.

The conference committee will get to work on finding a venue for the fall conference that is affordable, has comfortable private accommodations and provides a natural setting. If anyone knows of such a place, please let a committee member know.

Respectfully submitted,
Carol Heywood,

CONFERENCE COORDINATORSCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE REPORT

Once again the generosity of CSQ members making donations and the proceeds from the raffle drawings have allowed us to offer scholarships for attending conferences to members who would not be able to afford it otherwise.

At the Fall Conference 2014, we were able to fund 2 full scholarships and 3 partial scholarships.

We did not offer official scholarships for the spring retreat, but we did offer financial assistance to allow one of the members to attend.

At this Fall Conference 2015, we have funded 2 full scholarships and 1 partial scholarship.

A very big thank you to all who have made the generous donations and bought raffle tickets that allow us to serve our members in this significant way.

Carol Heywood,
